THE CANVAS of New York.
The Times, which sides with the Radicals in the fight, thus speaks of the prospects in its issue of the 23d:
The Democrats are much more sanguine of electing Mr. Hoffman than they were a fortnight ago. The number of names registered already indicates a vote in the city which will approach, if not exceed, a hundred thousand; and this fact is regarded as favorable to a very heavy Democratic majority here. A very strong effort has also been made to array the entire liquor-dealing vote, and especially the German lager-beer interest on the Democratic side. The existing license law is sweepingly condemned even by that very class of respectable and responsible dealers to whom it is of decided advantage, and as it was enacted by a Republican Legislature, it is easy to excite hostility to the Republican party on account of it. The naturalization committees of the Democratic party are also very active, and are naturalizing and registering a very heavy vote, in addition to what has been hitherto cast.

OPINIONS OF GRANT AND SHERMAN.—I am satisfied that the mass of the thinking men of the South accept the present situation of affairs in good faith. The questions which have heretofore divided the sentiments of the people of the two sections—slavery and state rights, or the right of a State to secede from the Union—they regard as being settled forever by the highest tribunal (arms) that a man can resort to—Gen. Grant

All the fighting men of our army want peace, and it is only those who never heard a shot—never heard the shrieks and groans of the wounded and mangled friend or foe, that cry aloud for more blood, more vengeance, more desolation. I know the rebels are whipped to death, and declare before God, as a man and a soldier, I will not strike a foe who stands unarmed and submissive before me.

[LEWY, GEN. SHERMAN.

Terrible Conflagration in Nashville.
A fire broke out on the morning of the 24th inst., in the Drug store of H. W. Hasslock, on Cedar street in Nashville, and spread with fearful rapidity on that street, Cherry and Dearlock, until nearly, or quite a half million dollars worth of property was destroyed. A high wind was prevailing at the time, and the "Fire King" seemed to defy the puny efforts of mortals to stay his progress. The Republican Banner office fell an early victim to the devouring elements, but we are happy to learn that the enterprising publishers—Roberts, Waterson & Co.—have not lost a single issue of their paper; but, through the courtesy of the Union are now publishing in that office.—Rome Courier.

THE PROPOSED IMPROVEMENT.—The Newburyport Herald thus comments on the proposed impeachment of President Johnson:

Now to our mind the proposition of impeachment is one so full of danger that he who lathers it must be short sighted or terribly depraved. There is not a rational man in the country that does not see that it carries upon its very face the commencement of a civil war by the side of which the late rebellion would appear as child's play. Before any one accustoms his mind to wander too far in that direction, let him inquire if he is prepared for a state of anarchy that would destroy the value of property, that would repudiate national and private debts together, that would darken the sun of republican liberty, that this century would not see its face again and would make human blood run in the streets till the very dogs would lap it like water. If any man of fighting age favors the deposing the President in the present state of the country, let him join a military company at once, and drill as often as he can; and if he is not at that age, but has boys that are let him call them to him on the first opportunity, and looking them fairly in the face, decide which of them, or how many he is ready to see die rather than have Andrew Johnson President of the United States till the 4th of March, 1867!

It is time this insanity ceased. If we are not crazy, or drunk, or mad, we shall tell all men of all parties, who propose such schemes, "away devils, we'll none of you." We want no more war; no more slaying of the first born; no more maimed men, or discolored widows, or orphan children, upon our pension list. We want no more public debt and no higher taxes than we now have. We want no President who would put State against State and man against man in deadly array, by ignoring the representatives of the people; and we want no representatives so lost to reason, right and public duty, as to propose the deposition of the President. Times are full enough of danger without any such madness. Every good and true man—every man who loves his race or his God, will seek peace, not war; restoration, not destruction; prosperity, not anarchy; and love to all men everywhere, and hate to none, and malice to none.

High Price of Paper.
Many persons wonder why the price of newspapers, books, &c., remains so high now that the war is over, and gold has come down so far toward the old standard. They will learn one of the principal reasons by the following paragraph from the Springfield, Mass., Republican:

"The Crew paper company of South Hadley Falls have declared a yearly dividend of 100 per cent besides reserving a fund sufficient to build an addition to their mill. Last year the dividend was 120 per cent."

This simple paragraph tells the whole story. If paper makers cannot be satisfied with anything less than doubling their entire capital every year, and adding 20 per cent, even to that, the people must try to be content with paying a high price for their reading. The remedy is, to build more paper mills.

A BEE TAME.—At the State Fair, held at Saratoga, New York, a bee tamer made his appearance, and created quite a stir. He is thus described by a correspondent: "One of the greatest attractions on the ground was a great honey-bee monger, whose hat, while on his head, was covered with bees, which appeared like a small swarm on a bush. He handled bees as if they were harmless flies. They crawled all over his person, in his hair and on his face, and he put some of them in his mouth and blew them out, and handled them at pleasure. And what was most remarkable, they were strange bees, attracted from the woods or colonies in the country. Immense crowds of people hung around him, continually asking questions, and purchasing the secret of collecting bees from the forest or robbing their neighbors of their busy workers by remaining quietly at home. When every bee was shaken from his hat, and it was returned to his head, the buzzing crowd about him would quickly return, completely covering the hat. The superintendent finally interfered, affirming that such an exhibition drew away too many people."

BOYS USING TOBACCO.—A strong and sensible writer says a good thing, and a true one, too, of boys who use tobacco. It has utterly spoiled and ruined thousands of boys. It tends to weakening softening of the bones, the spinal marrow, and the whole nervous fluid. A boy who smokes early and frequently, or in any way large quantities of tobacco, is never known to make a man of much energy, and generally lacks muscular and physical as well as mental power. We would particularly warn boys who want to be anything in the world to shun tobacco as a most baneful poison. It injures the teeth. It produces an unhealthy state of the throat and lungs, hurts the stomach, and blasts the brain and nerves.—Scientific American.

THE INDIAN MASSACRE ON THE PLAINS.
—Captain James Fisk, who has been engaged in taking trains over the Northern route to Montana writes from Helena, Montana, September 20th and confirms the reports of Indian outrages and murders on the other route. He says that more than three thousand emigrants have been killed by the Indians during this season. At a recent battle, near the Yellow Stone, seventy whites were killed, and the whole route known as Bonanza's Cut-off is strewn with fresh graves. Fisk says he had no trouble with the Indians on his route.

The trial of Mr. Davis has been postponed till next spring. The further delay is attributed by Chief Justice Chase to the action of Congress in meddling with the geographical boundaries of the Judicial Districts, without making the proper allotment of judges.

A special Washington dispatch to the Boston Journal of yesterday morning states that treaties with the Imperial Government of Mexico have been agreed upon, and are now under process of exchange. The French troops and Maximilian withdraw this year from Mexico. The United States assumes the protectorate of the Republic, guaranteeing the French claims. In consideration Mexico cedes to the United States the peninsula of Lower California and other territory south of our present southwest boundary.

Terrible Hurricane at Turk's Island
HALIFAX, Oct. 25.—The steamer Victor makes the following report: Turk's Island on the 30th, was visited by a terrific hurricane, destroying over 800 houses and their contents. Over 3,000 persons are rendered homeless, and are almost naked. One hundred and twenty-five thousand bushels of salt were swept away. Six foreign and twelve Island crafts were lost, with twenty of their crew.

our authorized Agent, to contract, receive and receipt for subscription and advertising for the Republican.

Mr. A. W. BELL, of the firm of SIDES & BELL, 41 North Water Street, Mobile, Ala. is our authorized Agent, to contract, receive and receipt for subscription and advertising for the Republican.

Our friends have a fine opportunity now to be suited with any and every variety of Goods, suitable to the season. It will be seen by reference to the advertisement of P. Rowan, that he is now receiving and opening an elegant and extensive assortment.

Mr. Rowan is an accomplished and experienced merchant—accommodating,
courteous and gentlemanly in bearing,
and if he fail in any instance to give satisfaction to his patrons, we shall be much disappointed.

Our friend John M. Wylly, so long and favorably known as a correct and energetic business man, in this community, may also be found in this house,
ready at all times to wait on his friends
in the most approved, prompt and satisfactory manner.

A. J. Moses & Co., Hardware Merchants,
Mobile, Ala. advertise with us this week.—
They have a very extensive stock, including everything from a screw to an Iron Safe.
They are safe gentlemen to deal with. As evidence, they refer you to Col. R. B. Kyle,
a gentleman whom we all know.

Hurxthal, Bruce & Co. of Mobile,
are also in the Hardware business, and have an Establishment rivaling any in the city.
They are favorably known to some of our best citizens, and say that they intend to make it the interest of this section to trade with them. See their card.

L. Brewer & Co.—We called on these gentlemen while in Mobile and looked at their large and choice stock of Groceries. They already have a trade with some of our merchants and desire to enlarge it. We heartily recommend them and hope their abundant success.

C. E. Thames, Cotton Factor and Commission Merchant, Mobile, presents his regards to his friends and acquaintances in Calhoun, through our columns, and would be happy to serve them in his line of business. He was formerly connected with the house of McClure & Thames, Selma Ala., well known here.

P. C. Hannan, Com. Merchant and Dealer in Southern and Western Produce, Mobile, respectfully solicits the patronage of the people of this section of the State. He brings as a recommendation, a thorough experience in his business and a long establishment in that city. See his card.

S. J. Murphy & Co. Cotton Factors and Gen. Com. Merchants, Mobile, insert their card in our paper this week. M. G.
Hudson, one of the firm, will be remembered
by all of Gen. Wheeler's Cavalry command, he having occupied a position on the staff of that distinguished General. He asks the patronage and influence of his old army associates, which, without doubt, they will readily and cheerfully extend to him.

People who visit Mobile must not fail to call on Martin, Cowin & Co., Wholesale Grocers and Com. Merchants. It will be clearly to the interest of every one to examine their fine stock before purchasing elsewhere and a most delightful treat to be shown through their tremendous establishment by any of the polite clerks or proprietors.
See their card in another column.

Notice the card of A. & B. Moog, Grocers, Soap Manufacturers, Wine Merchants
&c. They make a splendid article of soap.—
Patronize these gentlemen freely and thereby encourage the home manufacture of this most useful and indispensable article. They also keep on hand choice old wines and can supply all demands made on them for heavy or fancy Groceries, at very moderate prices.

Watson & Eager, General Receiving Forwarding & Commission Merchants, Selma, continue their card as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns. These gentlemen are already known extensively throughout this section of the State. Mr.
Eager, it will be remembered, held the office of Post Master at Selma for ten years, until rendered ineligible by his patriotism—an assurance that he will do to depend upon.

Surely you would not go to Selma and come back without first taking a look at Johnson & Miree's fine Dry Goods Establishment.
They have a large and very handsome stock,
and are receiving large additions daily, as will be seen by reference to change in card. Those of our people who cannot find an article in our market, need not be put to any inconvenience on that account. They have only to drop Euclid a line, and by return train they will get the goods ordered, from a plug of very fine Tobacco to a stock for a country store, and that at extremely low prices.

If you wish to deal with one of the most courteous and polite gentlemen we have ever met, and one as competent as he is clever,
call on G. J. Thomas, Grocer and Commission Merchant of Selma. He will offer you as good bargains as you can get elsewhere. See his advertisement in another column.

The reader will see this week the card of Weaver & Kitchen, Grocers and Commission Merchants of Selma. They have control of a good brick warehouse, constantly under guard; and consignments to them cannot but be safe. They offer liberal advances on cotton for shipment or sale, and will bestow
on all business entrusted to them, such attention and care as only gentlemen of their experience in business are capable.

Jas. L. Moore, wholesale and retail Druggist, Selma, offers to the market as large and complete assortment of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumery, Paints, Fancy Goods, &c., as can be found anywhere. He has a medicine for "every ill that flesh is heir to." It will be to the interest of country dealers to send their orders to him.

T. A. Nicoll & Co. wholesale Wine & Liquor dealers, Selma, offer as liberal inducements as any house South, and are prepared to fill all orders for this section of the State, with dispatch. They are connected with one of the largest importing houses in Mobile,
and can offer, freight added, as cheap as can be bought in that city. See change in their advertisement.

You cannot fail, if visiting the Troup House,
Selma, of being pleased with the pleasant
grounds, good fare and fine accommodations.
The genial humor and gentlemanly courtesy of Col. STURDIVANT throws around you a perfect "home feeling." He possesses in a high degree all the essential qualities of a gentleman who "knows how to keep a hotel" well.

Capt. Stanton, the gentlemanly Assistant Superintendent of the Ala. and Tenn. R.
Railroad, has our thanks for courtesies recently extended to us. The company have fitted up the cars comfortably for winter, and thus offer additional inducements for travel through this shortest, quickest and cheapest route from Selma to Atlanta & Chattanooga.

Read the advertisement of Rosser & Morey, wholesale and retail Grocers and General Commission Merchants, Selma. These gentlemen keep constantly on hand every article usually demanded in our market. We looked through their very large stock, and can warrant that you can be accommodated
in quantity, quality and price; and more accommodating and polite gentlemen cannot be found in Selma, which is saying a great deal.
Give them a call.

To the Captains of the River Steamers Montgomery and Virginia No. 1, we are indebted for favors.
The Montgomery, Capt. C. W. Norton, is
the regular packet from Mobile to Selma, arriving there every Wednesday and returning every Friday, connecting at Mobile with the Vigo, running to New Orleans and commanded by Capt. John W. Stone, a most clever and accommodating gentleman.

The Virginia No. 1, under charge of that prince of Captains, and most elegant gentleman Capt. O'Bannon, is due Selma from Mobile every Friday and leaves there every Sunday morning.
We would advise those of our people who love comfort and attention, to leave here so as to make the connection with one or the other of these first class river boats. They both belong to the Independent Line, the same that brought freight on the Alabama River from two dollars and a half down to fifty cents.—
A fact, which alone, should entitle them to the patronage of the people.

Elections take place on Tuesday
next 6th Nov. in the following States
New York, New Jersey, Nevada, Missouri, Minnesota, Michigan, Massachusetts, Maryland, Kansas, Illinois, Delaware, Louisiana, Wisconsin. It is useless to indulge in conjectures or expressions of opinion as to the future destiny of the country, until these elections are heard from.

By reference to the advertisement
of our townsman, Mr. John M. Wylly, it will be seen that he offers the highest market price to those who may wish to sell their cotton in the seed, or ready for shipment. He also offers to pay the tax, and make liberal advances (charging only the very moderate rate of lawful interest on the amount advanced) on all cotton consigned to Messrs. Tarlton, Ledyard & Co., Mobile.

SELMA COTTON MARKET.—We have been favored by those excellent and attentive Commission Merchants, Bell & Bro. of Selma, with a copy of their Cotton Price Current, dated 30th. Oct.
From it we learn the following facts.
Low Middling cotton at that time was 33 3/4; Middling 35; Strict Middling 36
Receipts since Sept. 1st, 3500 bales—stock on hand 900. Exchange on New York and New Orleans 3/4, on Mobile 1/2
Freight to Mobile $2 per bale—to New Orleans 2 to $3.

The Chitany Notice of the Rev.
Willis Dickinson, will appear in our next issue.

An esteemed friend at Washington,
in a position to know and speak intelligently of political affairs about the capital, writes us thus encouragingly: "Notwithstanding the recent elections, I have not lost faith. There is no doubt but the President will stand by the Constitution and the whole country. He has taken his position and cannot be driven from it. I do not believe the Radicals will dare impeach him. Such a move would wrap the country in flames

and they are too sensible not to see it.
There is no good reason why we should despair, and I am far from doing so."
Nashville Banner.

Telegraphic dispatches received last night state that Gov. Swann of Maryland, has removed the Police Commissioners. The old Commissioners have their full force out and will resist the demand of the new force for the surrender of the station-houses marshal's office &c. Four hundred troops have arrived at Fort McHenry and will be retained
at Baltimore in case of a disturbance.

The feeling on both sides is the bitterest. The excitement on the streets is great and a collision seems certain.—
The question is at last reduced to a fight or a square back down on the part of one or the other.

EXCITEMENT AMONG THE FENIANS.
NAPOLEON'S DEATH HOURLY EXPECTED.

New York, Oct. 27.—There is much excitement here among the Irish in consequence of the sentence of Lynch (Fenian.)

The Common Council have adopted
resolutions in a spirit of humanity.
The Mayor, Aldermen and the commu-
nality request the Government of Canada to pardon and release Lynch and his associates, and that the President be requested to unite in this request.
A Berlin correspondent, writing on the 7th inst., says that the Chief Surgeon of the Prussian Army left for Byrnape, to consult with the physicians of Napoleon on the possibility of performing an operation.

A dispatch has been received from the Prussian Embassy, at Paris, saying that there is no hope for Napoleon.
Death may be hourly expected.
Toronto, Canada, Oct. 27.—John McMahon, another Fenian, was yesterday sentenced to be hung on the 13th December.

man had another interview with the President to-day.
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 27.—An appeal is published in morning papers
here for a mass meeting of Fenians on Sunday night. It urges resistance to the execution of the Fenians lately sentenced to death in Toronto.

Toronto, Canada, Oct. 26.—The other Fenian trials will probably not commence before Wednesday Mr. Mc-Kenzie, who is retained by the American Consul to defend such as are Americans,
not being ready for trial.

Baltimore, Oct. 27.—The examination of witnesses against the Police Commissioners, before Gen. Swann, was continued to-day, at Annapolis. At three o'clock the case was adjourned until Monday, when, it is believed, the matter will be ended.

Montreal, Canada, Oct. 27.—The news that Lynch, the Fenian, has been sentenced to death, causes much discussion here.
Another large lot of war material has arrived here from England.

COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL

Commission Merchants,

Gov. Patton.

The Montgomery Mail mentions Gov. Patton as a probable candidate for the United States Senate from Alabama. While we believe that Governor Patton will fill the position with honor and credit to himself and State, we trust that he will not be a candidate. It makes too good a Governor to be allowed to retire at the close of one term. We must have him for another term. Under his administration, the affairs of the State have been conducted in a wise manner, and he has probably done more for any other man could to relieve the State from the embarrassments under which it labored. The financial condition of Alabama is better to day than that of any other Southern State, and the internal affairs of the State are in a healthy condition. All this is due to Gov. Patton's indefatigable efforts in behalf of the interests and welfare of the people and of the State.

We repeat, the people of Alabama should be willing that Gov. Patton should retire from the gubernatorial chair at the present term, but he must consent to serve another term. In this we believe we reflect the sentiments of nearly the whole people of Alabama.

Huntsville Independent.

A Washington special to the New York Tribune of the 23d says that at the last Cabinet meeting it was resolved to demand payment at the hands of the British Government, in full, for all outrages committed by the rebel privateers which were fitted out in England. Instructions to carry out this decision were sent to Mr. Adams last Thursday. The Government will not consent to a commission. It is stated it will be proposed in Congress to assume the Mexican debt.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Minister Campbell has left here for his home in Ohio, from whence, in a few days, he will proceed to Mexico, accredited to the Juarez Government.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Another large Fenian meeting took place last night in Buffalo. The war spirit among the Irish is excited.

Large meetings have also been held in Cincinnati—men and money being contributed.

Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, says that during the rebellion men fled from the South for safety. Let the Northern Radicals beware lest the time will soon come when men will fly to the South for safety.

THE SOUTHERN RADICALS DEMAND THE UPSETTING OF THE RECONSTRUCTION GOVERNMENTS—MORE REVOLUTIONARY COMPROMISE.—New York Oct. 13.—The Tribune's St. Louis special says the Southern Loyalists prepared an address this morning to the people of the United States before leaving Springfield. They urge the people to spring, in behalf of the true loyalists, on further conditions precedent to the admission of the late rebel States than those enunciated in the constitutional amendment, because the present State Governments of the South are not legal bodies, and therefore cannot legally ratify the amendment. They plead that the people insist that their representatives shall at the next session declare the present State organizations in the South illegal, and proceed to organize governments based upon the principles of impartial loyal suffrage. A committee of seven were appointed to keep the subject before the people until the final decision of the reconstruction by Congress. This Committee consists of Col. Moss of Missouri, President; Gov. Hamilton, of Texas; Bingham, of Alabama; Tucker, of Virginia; Eaton, of Tennessee, and Randolph of Louisiana.

The Loyalists have dissolved. Every where their pleas for impartial suffrage have been enthusiastically received, even in the strongholds of the Conservatives in Indiana and Illinois, and everywhere they have met the most cordial audiences.

DISTRIBUTIONS.

We would call attention to the opinion of one of the leading papers of Canada on this subject:

Most of our readers have no doubt read some of the numerous advertisements of Gift Enterprises, Gift Concerns, &c., which appear from time to time in the public prints, offering most tempting bargains to those who will patronize them. In most cases these are genuine humbugs. But there are a few respectable firms who do business in this manner, and they do it as a means of increasing their wholesale business, and not to make money. From such firms, it is true, handsome and valuable articles are procured for a very small sum, and what is more important, no one is ever cheated. Every one gets good value for his dollar; because, as we have stated, it is intended to act as an advertisement to increase their ordinary business.

We have seen numbers of prices sent out in this way by SUMNER, WARREN & COMPANY, of Nassau street, N. Y., and there is no doubt that some of the articles are worth eight or ten times the money paid for them, while we have not seen or heard of a single article which was not fully worth the dollar which it cost. But this is only one of the exceptions of this rule, for as a general thing the parties engaged in this business are nothing but clever swindlers.

MARRIED.—At the residence of Thos. D. Fister of this place, by the Rev. D. F. Smith, Mr. S. W. RINDLE, of Silver Run, to Mrs. M. A. ROBERTS, of Talladega.

COTTON.

I WILL pay the highest market price for Cotton in the seed and for Cotton ready for market. I will also pay the taxes—make liberal advance, (charge only 8 per cent on the advances) and attend to the Shipping of cotton consigned to Messrs. Turlion, Lydard & Co., Mobile, Ala. JOHN M. WYLY, Nov. 3, 1866.

To the Afflicted.

DR. GEORGE W. LEACH proposes a new system of cure in place of the vast internal doses which enfeeble the stomach, poison the blood and endanger the life. He can be consulted at any time in Jacksonville, personally or by letter, giving name of the person, whether over or under 35 years of age, and the disease. He cures cancers, wens, ulcers, scrofula, piles, diseases of the lungs, spleen, kidneys, and some others; charging but a very small amount in advance, afterwards if no cure no pay. He has a number of testimonials of cure—has recently treated 11 cases of cancer, seven of which are entirely well and the others getting well.

G. W. LEACH, Public Doctor.

Administratrix Notice.

In Chancery.

Milly Birch and others, vs. At Rules before the Register of the 30th Dist. Northern Chancery Div. of Ala. Oct. 29, 1866.

THIS day came the complainants by their Solicitors Ellis & Caldwell, and moved the undersigned Register and Master in Chancery for the 30th District, Northern Chancery Division of Ala.; for an order of publication against the following non-resident defendants: to-wit: Thomas Birch, Alvin Birch, Joseph Birch, Hiram Birch and James Jett, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Register, from an affidavit on file, that all the said defendants are of full age and non-residents of the State of Alabama, to-wit: Tho's Birch, Alvin Birch, Joseph Birch and Hiram Birch reside in the State of Texas, Cook county, Tex. (post office not known) and the said Jett resides in the State of Georgia, in Atlanta.

It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, a weekly newspaper printed and published in the Town of Jacksonville, Alabama, for four consecutive weeks, requiring the said defendants to appear before the said Register at the Town of Jacksonville, Alabama, on Monday the 31st day of December next, by 12 o'clock of said day, and plead, answer or demur to complainants bill of complaint exhibited in said Chancery docket against them and others, or the same will be taken for confessed by them, and the said cause set for hearing ex parte as to them.

It is further ordered, that a copy of said order be posted up at the court house door of Calhoun county, Alabama, in the Town of Jacksonville, within twenty days after the date of this order, and a copy be forwarded to James Jett, defendant at Atlanta, Georgia, within the same time.

Granted October 29th, 1866.

WM. M. HAMES, Register, &c.

In Chancery.

Nancy Donahoe, et al. vs. At Rules before the Register of the 30th Dist. Northern Chancery Division of Ala. Oct. 29, 1866.

THIS day came the complainants by their Solicitors, Ellis & Caldwell, and moved the undersigned Register and Master in Chancery for the 30th District, Northern Chancery Division of the State of Alabama, for an order of publication against the defendants, Satria Jane Riddle, Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle, upon the ground that they live before the limits of said State, and requiring the satisfaction of the Register from an affidavit on file, that the said Satria Jane Riddle is of full age and resides in Hamilton county, State of Tennessee; and that the said Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle are both minors under fourteen years of age, and reside with their mother, the said Satria Jane Riddle, in Hamilton county, State of Tennessee.—It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, a weekly newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, Calhoun county, Alabama, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring the said non-resident defendants Satria Jane Riddle, Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle to be and personally appear before the Register of the court at his office in the town of Jacksonville, Alabama, within fifty days from the date of this order, and plead, answer or demur to complainants bill of complaint, exhibited against them and others in said Chancery court, or the same will be taken as confessed and said cause set for hearing ex parte as to them. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be posted upon the court house door of Calhoun county, Ala. within twenty days from this date.

Manhood: How Lost, how Regained!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the causes, symptoms, and treatment of Seminal Weakness, Impotency, and Physical Incapacity. Impediments to Marriage, &c. also Constitutional Debility, and Piles, induced by self-abuse, or sexual extravagance. Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be entirely cured without the use of the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in an envelope, bearing address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address the publisher.

[From the LaCrosse Democrat.] Conciliation.

Once in a great while we hear a mild Democrat talking of the necessity of hushed words and conciliation. And once in a while "some man without a mind" tells us that we would gain more converts if we would not speak so loud.

Why, bless your easy temper! Has not the Democratic party "conciliated" for six years, till ashamed of itself?—When it lost pluck it lost its power.

The American people love bravery. God hates a coward. We hate a coward. Who does not hate a coward? When the Abolition party proposed a war against a large majority, as the Democratic party then was, people endorsed it for its bravery.

And people said Democrats must conciliate. For what? Conciliate who? The Abolition scoundrels who now sit like the nightmare on the breast of Democracy, won their power by refusing to conciliate.

And Democrats lost their strength by being cowed down.

We have nothing to repent of except conciliation.

How did Abolitionists conciliate the people? How did the rail-splitting huffon conciliate?

How did Seward, the devil of America, conciliate?

And how did Stanton conciliate? And how did the loyal mobs, the red-mouthed members of the God and morality party, the stay-at-home patriots, the lovers of the negro, the thieves, upstarts, cowards, assassins, ignominies, rowdies, and platter-brained minions of a tyrant, who were once in power as provost marshals and deputies, conciliate?

They hung us to trees. They touched little bells, and we went to prison.

They beat our brains out with clubs. They ostracized us in business.

They payed God to damn us here, hence and forever.

They taught their children to hate us; they lied about us; they slandered us; they stole from us; they cheated us in drafts and quotes; they stole our bounty money; they filled the country with nigger paupers and bastard children; they shot at us; they hung us; they pillaged us; they broke us up and down in business; they called us traitors, fools, traitors, cowards and God only knows what.

Conciliate! Play coward; play baby; play nice little boy; play mild gentlemen in Sunday suit. The ones who have wronged, who have ruined the people, are the ones to talk conciliation—not the victims of wrong, of tyranny, of injustice, persecution, fraud and cowardish in-cliance.

Who will we conciliate? For what should we conciliate?

Had not the leading Democrats of the nation lost their pluck, and stopped to conciliate a few years since, there would be no such work as this.

Had we demanded the rights but our own had two million Democrats of the North stood on their muscles in 1861 and '62, and '63, and '64, there would be more men and fewer corpses in the land today.

Nice time to conciliate, when a murderer has the knife to your heart, the thief has both hands in your pocket, the burglar has gained entrance to your house; when the seducer laughs at your victim; when the incendiary is warning his hands and cooking his meat by the fire he has kindled; when the assassin has attacked you on the street; when a mob is at your door!

Thank God, we never tried the conciliation dodge! When the mob came, we faced it; when the men called us a traitor, we slapped their faces; when cowards forsok us, we held our own, and kept the good old banner up where we could see it at all events!

What! Two millions able-bodied victims talk of conciliation! Shame, shame you pat lots of America! Who are you afraid of? Without your aid, unless you hold still, it is impossible to chain you. If you will be willing slaves, you may, but we will not.

Charge home upon the Radical traitors, the Lincolnites, the abolitionists, the cowards, coloners, insulters, cotton thieves, contract windlers, grave robbers, hospital plunderers, nigger lovers, white men haters, and Union seepers, the work they have done.

We'd sooner conciliate the hyena who has his nose in the graves of our darlings, the wolf who has robbed us of our lambs, the Butler who has stolen our silver, the resurrectionist who has snatched our wept one from the grave, the tyrant who is strangling our infant, the minion of power who poisons those he dare not fight, and the viper which is ready at all times to strike his fangs into us, rather than with the ones who, for hate, envy, spite, greed, money, place, power and lust, have broken into the temple and ravished the goddess there sleeping, while we, her chosen defenders, were, coward-like, talking of "conciliation." Let those who do not fight go to the rear.

The following extract from a letter just received from an intelligent lawyer in New Orleans, who went there from Boston in the Spring, and who, when he went, was a warm Republican, throws light on the state of public feeling in the South:

I have stayed here through the heat of summer, without fear of Confederates or others but Radicals. They are the only mischief-makers, and I am inclined to think they will be still awhile. Negroes, too, are and will be quiet, if white Radicals will let them alone; and they never would have thought of riot but for such villains. What lies you publish there at the North! Well, you may learn better some day.

The Tomb of Sidney Johnston.

"Town Talk," of the New Orleans Times, gives us the following. The epitaph is indeed rarely beautiful and appropriate:

A lady correspondent, in a recent stroll through the Saint Louis Cemetery, in this city visited the grave of General Albert Sidney Johnston, and found a written epitaph pasted upon a board attached to the tomb. In her notes to T. T., our fair correspondent says she was affected to tears upon reading it, and took the trouble to copy it, verbatim. She begs us to find out the author, and she should be gratified in that desire if it were possible for T. T. to do so. Here is the beautiful epitaph:

IN MEMORIAM.
Behind this stone is laid,
For a season,
ALBERT SIDNEY JOHNSTON,
A General in the army of the Confederate States.

Who fell at Shiloh, Tennessee,
On the sixth day of April, A. D.
Eighteen hundred and sixty two;
A man tried in many high offices
And critical enterprises,
And found faithful in all.

His life was one long sacrifice of interest to conscience;
And even that life, on a woful Sabbath
Did he yield as a holocaust at his country's need
Not wholly understood was he while he lived;
But in his death, his greatness stands confessed.

In a people's tears,
Resolute, moderate, clear of envy, yet not wanting
In that finer ambition which makes men great and pure.

In his honor—impregnable
In his simplicity—sublime
No country ere had had a truer son—
no cause a nobler champion;
No people a bolder defender—no principle a purer victim.

Than the dead Soldier
Who sleeps here!

The cause for which he perished is lost—the people for whom he fought, are crushed—
The hopes in which he trusted, are shattered—
The Flag he loved guides no more the charging lines;

But his fame, consigned to the keeping of that time, which,
Happily, is not so much the tomb of Virtue as its shrine.

Shall, in the years to come, fire modest worth to noble ends.

In honor, now, our great captain rests,
A bereaved people mourn him
Three commonwealths proudly claim him;

And history shall cherish him—
Among those choicest spirits, who, holding their conscience unmixt with blame
Have been, in all conjunctures, true to themselves, their country and their God.

There are 35,000 idle negroes in the city of Washington, who have neither means nor disposition to obtain an honest living. The Tribune asks Northern farmers to give them employment. Mr. Webster once told a distinguished Senator that he "must skin his own skunks"

A cow, exhibited at a late fair in Illinois, gave a yield of milk during three weeks in the month of June, of twenty-nine quarts daily, from which was made thirteen pounds of butter weekly. She took the premium, distancing all competitors

A common sense writer of the South says "we can no longer afford to buy with ready made money every lucifer match, nail, axe, shoe, pig, Saddle, wagon, hat, and every thing else we need, from the North." That's it, make such things, and if you display half the genius and industry you exhibited during the war, in the manufacture of powder and other war material, you will be reconstructed in spite of the politicians.—Boston Post.

THE ELECTIONS.—Sufficient news by telegraph has been received from the Northern and Western States, to show that all have gone Republican—some by increased and some by diminished majorities, but so as to leave the next Congress about as the last. Maryland and Delaware have gone Democratic and conservative, but we do not suppose this will have much influence upon the general politics of the country.

We confess that we are sadly disappointed at the result in the great State of New York, from which we had hoped better things. But perhaps it is best that the Radicals be permitted to develop their extreme measures including the impeachment of the President, and let them work their legitimate results, which will undoubtedly be their own ruin or that of the whole country.

OUR STATE LEGISLATURE meets on Monday next. It is thought by some that they will stay in session a few weeks and then adjourn to meet again after the development of policy towards the Southern States by the next Congress. It is to be hoped at least that they will not occupy their time in windy discussions about negro suffrage, Constitutional amendments, or federal politics of any sort.

All seem to agree upon the importance of developing, now that we have nothing else to do, the agricultural mineral and manufacturing resources of the State; but how to obtain the necessary capital seems to be the great difficulty. Would it not be well for our Legislature to provide for the State to take stock to the amount of one-third or one-fourth in judiciously located manufacturing establishments; or if this is not thought advisable, lend its credit, or make an actual donation to every company of a certain amount for every five or ten thousand dollars invested? Whether the State made a donation or took stock, it would soon be paid back by the increased value of taxable property. The financial condition of the State is by no means embarrassed—perhaps less so than it has been in thirty years, and it is therefore abundantly able to afford the necessary and much needed encouragement to the objects mentioned.

Indian Summer.

The season still continues very favorable for sowing wheat, and we think that people generally are industriously engaged in availing themselves of the advantages afforded. This is just such a Fall as usually precedes a good wheat crop.

Generous October is still lending lovely days to keep in abeyance, "chill November's surly blast"—Indian Summer is in its glory, and nature clothed with the lovely, but somewhat melancholy hues of Autumn.

While on this subject we will say a word about the lovely scenery surrounding our Town. We do not wonder, at such a season as this, that it is universally admired by strangers, especially in Spring and Autumn. The range of mountains two miles east, and parallel range of hills on the west, as far as the eye can reach north and south, appear like huge beds of gorgeous and many-hued flowers agreeably interspersed with dark green pines, while "our own happy valley nestles beneath." The days are mellowed by the mild azure hues of Indian Summer, and the hills and mountains often touched with gold and purple, at the twilight hours of the rising and setting sun. The pen of the poet and the pencil of the painter, must forever fail to describe or picture the loveliness of such a scene.

CALHOUN COUNTY.—Our late Sheriff, Capt. J. M. Anderson, who meritoriously won from Gen. Wheeler, during the late war, the honorable appellation of "the gallant Anderson," lately published in our paper an address to his friends on resigning his office. This address has been copied into the Louisville Journal, Mobile Advertiser, Montgomery Advertiser and other papers, with particular reference to the fact that the office was resigned, because the business would not support its expenses; and holding up Calhoun as a model or banner County for the forbearance of its citizens, one toward another. And these Editors know the facts, they might have added that Calhoun was the banner Democratic county of the State before the war, the banner co. for devotion to the South during the war, & the banner County for peace and harmony since the war—in fact, a banner County for gallant men and lovely women and the time.

Hats off all round gentlemen, and three cheers for old Calhoun.

CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA.
Nov. 8, 1866.

To the Tax Payers of Calhoun Co.
I take this method to make known the indebtedness of this County up to 1st November, 1866, which has accumulated against the County for 1865 & 1866. The papers in the Poor-house, four in number, cost the county in the last two years, $1,600 00

The balance of the ordinary claims, 9,722 69
Which accrued by holding Circuit Courts in 1865 and 1866, Commissioners Courts, advertising fees, Bailiff's returns of different elections held in the county, and other claims too tedious to mention, created the above debt in the last two years; and there has been no tax collected for 1865 for the State or County.

The Jail and Court-house repairing cost the people of the city $1,686 92
The Poor fund, hauling rations and corn, cost 1,757 18
The whole County indebtedness for two years past is 14,766 00

The State tax in the county amounts to 13,350 00
The Commissioners Court laid on the State tax for special purposes and county purposes 99 per cent. on the State tax, which amounts to 11,925 00

Which makes the State and county tax for this county 25,178 00
If the amount is all collected, it will still leave the county in debt at the end of this year 1866, $2,941 00

If the county had paid tax in the years 1865 and 1866 and the State tax had been the same each year that it is this, 60 per cent. on the State tax would have paid the county out of debt, and the county Treasurer would have had at the close of this year $245 00

JOHN W. McDANIEL,
Comr. of Roads and Revenues.

Wilkes Booth Alive.
In a recent number of the La Crosse Democrat, we find the following:

"The papers are now having much to say about Booth, whether he be dead or not. John Wilkes Booth was alive on the 13th day of July, 1866. The man who was killed was not Booth, but another person, murdered in order to obtain the reward offered for his capture. Time will unravel the hall of mystery connected with this affair, and show up the beauties of Stanton's detective system. Again we repeat, earnestly and certainly, that John Wilkes Booth never was taken to Washington, either wounded or dead, and that he was alive in July of this year."

The following may be stated as the reasons why the Southern States refuse to ratify the proposed Constitutional amendment:

1. The lack of a distinct pledge that this is all that will be asked, and that acceptance guarantees satisfaction.

2. The general belief that "there is no use" in yielding this point—that it is only the prelude to further and more stringent exactions.

3. The South will not vote for its own degradation and the dishonourment of its best citizens. The great objection is to the third section, which does this.

4. If the South has no rights in the Union now, how can she assist in making the fundamental laws of the land, and develop that whole train of argument?

5. That the thing should be rejected because it is an attempt to fix a party policy of a vengeance against the South in the Constitution of the United States.

The Post Office Department is preparing an advertisement for proposals for mail service in the Southwestern States, the contracts to remain in force four years from date.

Tax Notice.
The Corporate authorities of the Town of Jacksonville, will meet at the office of the undersigned upon the 24th day of November, 1866, to correct mistakes in the assessment of the corporate taxes, this day returned for the year 1866—this 10th day, of November, 1866.

NOON DISPATCHES.

RADICAL MEETING IN BALTIMORE.

THE COMMISSIONERS' QUESTION NOT YET SETTLED.

TROOPS FROM WASHINGTON AND PHILADELPHIA GOING TO BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—A Radical mass meeting last night adopted an address to the country, declaring that they were anxious to maintain peace—that all doubts relating to the removal of the Commissioners should be decided by the Courts—literally denouncing the action of Governor Swann in attempting to remove the Police Commissioners, and accusing him of the purpose of throwing political power into the hands of the sympathizers and abettors of the rebellion.

The new Police Commissioners to-day went to the old Commissioners' office, where their appearance was the signal for tumultuous demonstrations of disapproval by the now largely increased crowd. They handed in their demand for possession of the premises, and then returned to the Conservative headquarters to receive a reply, and were there received with loud cheering from the crowd. It is now understood that they are organizing a new force.

Five or six members of the old Police force resigned last night, and to-day reported to the new Commissioners.

There are reports of the arrival of troops on the Washington road, and much excitement exists, and a deep feeling everywhere shown; but thus far there has been no disturbance.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—A regiment of troops passed through here this morning, en route to Baltimore.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

JEFF DAVIS' LIBERTY EXTENDED.

NEW COMMISSIONERS IN BALTIMORE ARRESTED!

THE WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS TO BE TRIED.

SEVERAL RIOTOUS DEMONSTRATIONS MADE!

"ALL QUIET IN FRONT" NOW.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 3.—The parole granted Jeff. Davis some months ago giving him the privilege of the grounds of the fortress during the day, has been extended, though Executive clemency in removing all surveillance over him, and the guard from his rooms in Carroll Hall, at night. Instructions to this effect have been sent from Washington to General Burt in command of the Fort, directing his imprisonment of anything like severity, and paying the way, it is generally presumed, for actual parole and release. All the guards over him, during the day and night, being removed. He now enjoys, practically, untrammelled liberty and every possible means of comfort and pleasure while held as a prisoner in the Fort.

It is said that Mr. Davis has expressed great gratification at this action of the Government, and already contemplates vacating Carroll Hall and taking up his residence with Mrs. Davis in the case as assigned him shortly after his arrival.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—The new Commissioners were arrested this afternoon on a bench-warrant issued by Judge Bond, on the charge of attempting to break the peace, and upon refusing to give bail in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, were committed to jail. Sheriff Thompson was also committed.

The old Commissioners are still in possession.

The counsel for Messrs. Valiant and Young, the new Commissioners, withdrew a writ of habeas corpus, which will bring the question before the Courts.

The writ can scarcely be returned before Monday.

The city is quiet now. Several riotous demonstrations occurred during the afternoon, when the fact became known that the new Commissioners had been arrested.

SUNDAY'S DISPATCHES.

A CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON.

NUMBER OF REGISTERED VOTERS IN NEW YORK.

THE CASE OF THE NEW COMMISSIONERS.

SPECULATIONS ABOUT THE RESULT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Gov. Swann, Montgomery Blair and Mr. Lybrand, Counsel for the newly appointed Baltimore Police Commissioners, arrived here last evening, and had an interview with the President to-day.

Gov. Swann, Gen. Grant, Stanton and the Attorney General, were in conference with the President.

New York, Nov. 4.—The grand total of registered voters in this city is one hundred and twenty-five thousand, one hundred and sixty-two.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.—Noon.—The counsel for the new Commissioners have made application before Judge Bartol, of the Court of Appeals, for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ cannot be served until to-morrow.

The law of Maryland on the subject of habeas corpus, provides that the officer having the party suing out the writ, shall, within three days after such service, make return of the writ and cause the person detained to be brought before the Court. If the Warden of the jail avails himself of these three days in which to make return, it is supposed the parties may not get a hearing before Tuesday or Wednesday.

It is not known what course he will pursue. It is presumed that if the Commissioners are brought before Judge Bartol to-morrow the counsel will enter into discussion on the points involved.

The city continues remarkably quiet, and excepting a small gathering of people quietly discussing the situation, and the numerous rumors in circulation, there is nothing noticeable, out of the ordinary course of events.

NOON DISPATCHES.

THE TRIAL OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

NOTHING DECISIVE ARRIVED AT.

A FIGHT NEAR BAXTER'S SPRINGS.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—Judge Barton, Associate Justice, Court of Appeals, appeared in Court this morning, and in answer to his inquiries if the writs of habeas corpus in the case of the new Commissioners and the Sheriff, which were issued by him on Saturday evening, had been served this morning, but the prisoners were not forthcoming, owing to the want, the Warden of the jail said of proper conveyances.

The counsel for the prisoners contends that the writs should be returned immediately, on account of unavoidable impediments are presented.

The prisoners not appearing at eleven o'clock, their counsel announced that they had prepared a petition that His Honor would command the deputy sheriff to produce the Warden, together with the prisoners.

The Counsel for the old Commissioners thought that such return would be made by one o'clock as would render further proceedings here unnecessary.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5.—A fight recently occurred near Baxter Springs, between a party of surveyors under Comd'rs Phillips and Goss, and a number of desperadoes, in which Goss was killed and Phillips mortally wounded.

Goss was the Democratic candidate for State Auditor, Phillips formerly was the well-known correspondent of the Tribune.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

EMPEROR MAXIMILIAN RESIGNED.

MORE ABOUT THE COMMISSIONERS.

GEN. GRANT MAKES A PROPOSITION.

"ALL QUIET ALONG THE FRONT."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Mr. Romero has received a letter dated Vera Cruz, 25th ult., from New Orleans, stating that Maximilian left the City of Mexico on the 23d ult., retaining, verbally, in favor of General Bascom.

BUT WASHINGTON, 5.—Judge Bartol has decided that the Warden would have three days in which to return his writs.

An establishment containing one hundred and fifty boxes of fire-arms and ammunition was seized to-day by the Police. Resistance was offered to the arrest, and one man shot.

Gen. Grant, visiting in a private capacity, made the following proposition to the old Commissioners, which it is supposed, will be accepted:

That the Conservatives have one Judge of election and clerk in each precinct, and according to the history now have boxes for rejected ballots, which are to be placed at every precinct.

Grant was acting as the representative of Gov. Swann in the matter.

All quiet at present. No trouble apprehended.

THE WHOLE CONSERVATIVE TICKET ELECTED IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6.—The election passed off quietly. Incomplete returns made to-day that the Conservatives carried this city.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The State Department has official information of the departure of Maximilian from the City of Mexico.

LYONS.—Without hearing from their pen pals of the State, the result of the election in this city indicates that the Democrats and Conservatives, united, will have in the next Legislature fifteen Senators to nine Republicans, and in the House fifty-five Representatives to twenty-five Republicans—a clear majority on a joint ballot to thirty-six.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(11:30 P. M.)—Returns received from New York are very meagre, and give no definite idea of the results.

Private dispatches from prominent Democrats, speak hopefully. It is claimed that Hoffman has over forty-five thousand majority in New York City.

A sunning up of majorities thus far received, is thought, in private dispatches, to indicate a majority for the Conservatives in the State, of from five to ten thousand.

The interior is yet to be heard from. The full Democratic ticket is elected in the City.

New York, Nov. 6.—12 P. M.—Hoffman's majority is 46,425, one district to hear from, which will probably increase this.

NOON DISPATCHES.

THE ELECTIONS NORTH AND WEST.

NEW YORK STATE GONE REPUBLICAN.

LITTLE DELAWARE ALL RIGHT.

CONSERVATIVE SUCCESS IN MARYLAND.

Boston, Nov.—The Republicans have elected two Congressmen—a full delegation.—Two colored men are elected to the Legislature, one in Charleston and one in Boston.

Later and fuller returns do not alter the result as indicated in last night's dispatches.

WILMINGTON, DEL., Nov. 7.—Returns indicate heavy Republican losses. Sandbury is evidently elected Governor and Nicholson to Congress.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 7.—In the first Congressional District, Paine, Republican, has three thousand majority over Brown, Democrat.—The second, third, fifth and sixth Districts have elected Republicans to Congress. In the fourth District, Eldridge, Democrat, has three thousand majority.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Returns from the Western countries, comprising the fourth Congressional District, indicate the re-election of Frank Thomas, by two thousand majority.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The Intelligence has a Baltimore special dispatch, saying that the Conservatives to-day, notwithstanding all adverse circumstances, achieved great success. Their majority in the city is estimated at twelve hundred. Both Conservative members of Congress are elected, and the entire Legislative ticket. Returns from the various counties are in favor of the Conservatives.

The Republicans have increased majorities throughout the State of Wisconsin.

New York, Nov. 7.—Competent judges place the Republican majority in the State at five thousand. The Tribune claims more.

The Republicans to a three Congressmen in the Island counties, Dodge, Darling and Humphreys' Districts; but gain three in the River Districts, viz: Van Wyck in the place of Winfield in the 11th; Robinson in the place of Radford in the 10th; and Church in the place of Hubbell, in the 13th.

The Republican majority in this State is variously estimated at from five to seven thousand.

Illinois 4-0-0 Republican; Wisconsin 15-0-0 P. party; Massachusetts 7-0-0 Republican.

In New Jersey a Congressional election came off. Republicans to one Democrat. Fitzgibbon is elected to the third district.

In Delaware a Democratic Governor and Congressmen are elected by one thousand majority—a gain of five hundred.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

STATEMENT OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.

FENTON'S MAJORITY IN NEW YORK SAID TO BE 12,000.

DELAWARE AND MARYLAND CONSERVATIVE TO THE LAST.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The statement of the public debt for the present month, compared with that of the 1st ult., shows that, during the month of October, the debt has been decreased to the amount of $2,263,359 69.

New York, Nov. 7.—Fenton's majority will probably reach 13,000. The Congressional representation will stand the same as in the Congress.

Returns from Illinois indicate that the State has certainly gone for the Republicans by upwards of forty thousand majority.

The Republicans have carried every State that held an election yesterday, by increased majorities with the exception of Maryland and Delaware, which will show considerable conservative gains.

THE WIFE.

Only let a woman be sure that she is precious to her husband—not useful, but lovely and beloved; let her be the recipient of his polite, hearty attention; let her feel that her care and love are noticed, appreciated and returned; let her opinion be asked, her approval sought, and her judgment respected in matters of which she is a quizzing; in short, let her only be loved, honored and cherished, in fulfillment of the marriage vow, and she will be to her husband, her children and society, a well spring of pleasure. She will bear pain, and toil, anxiety, for her husband's love to her, a tower and a fortress. Shielded and sheltered therein, adversity will have lost its sting. She may suffer, but sympathy will dull the edge of sorrow.

A house with love expressed in words, and looks, and deeds, for I have not one spark of faith in love that never crops out—is to a house without love as a person is to a machine; one is life, the other is mechanism. The loved woman may have bread just as light, a house just as tidy, as the other; but the latter has a spring of beauty about her a joyousness, an aggressive and penetrating and pervading brightness, to which the former is a stranger. The deep happiness in her heart shines out in her face. She is a ray of sunlight in the house. She gleams over it. It is airy, and gay, and graceful, and warm, and welcoming with her presence; she is full of devices and plots, and sweet surprises for her husband and family; she, herself, is a lyric poem, setting herself to all pure and gracious melodies, humble household ways and duties have for her a golden significance. The prize makes the calling high, and the end sanctifies the means. "Love is heaven, and heaven is love."

POETRY

INDIAN SUMMER.

Just after the death of the flowers,
And before they are buried in snow,
There comes a festive season,
When nature is all aglow—
Aglow with a mystic splendor
That rivals the brightness of spring—
Aglow with a beauty more tender
Than night which fair summer could bring.

Some spirit akin to the rainbow
Then borrows its magic dyes,
And mingles the far-spreading landscape
In tints that bewilder the eyes.
The sun from his cloud-pillowed chamber,
Smiles soft on a vision so gay,
And dreams that his favorite children,
The flowers have not yet passed away.

There's a luminous mist on the mountain,
A light azure haze in the air,
As if angels while heavenward sending,
Had left their bright robes floating there.
The breeze is so soft, so caressing,
It seems a mute token of love,
And floats to the heart like a blessing,
From some happy spirit above.

These days so serene and so charming,
Aweaken a dreamy delight—
A tranquil, peaceful enjoyment,
Like soft strains of music at night.
We know they are fading and fleeting,
That quickly, too quickly they'll end,
And we watch them with yearning affection,
As at parting we watch a dear friend.

Oh! beautiful Indian Summer!
Thou favorite child of the year—
Thou darling when nature enriches
With gifts and adornments so dear!
How vain would we woo thee to linger
On mountain and meadow awhile,
For our hearts like the sweet winds of nature,
Rejoice and grow young in thy smile.

Not alone to the sad fields of autumn
Dost thou a lost brightness restore,
But thou bringest a world-every spirit
Sweet dreams of its childhood once more.
Thy brightness dwells in our memories
Of all that is brightest and best;
Thy peace and serenity offer
A foretaste of heavenly rest.

The Beauty of Old Age.

I often think each tottering form
That hangs along in life's decline,
Once bore a heart as young as warms,
As full of life as youth's prime.
And each has had its dream of joy,
Its own unquenched, pure romance,
Commencing when the blushing boy
First thrilled at woman's glance.

And each has had his love of youth;
Would think his scenes of love evince
More passion, more unworldly truth
Than any tale before or since.
Yes! they could tell of tender lays,
At midnight peeped in classic shades,
Of days more bright than modern days—
And naids more fair than modern maids.

Of whispers in a willing ear;
Of kisses on a blushing cheek,
Each kiss, each whisper far too dear
Our modern life to give or seek.
Of passions too, too fondly cherished—
Of passions spiritual or betrayed—
Of kindred spirits ever met,
And buds that blossom but to fade.

Of beaming eyes and tresses gay,
Elastic form and rosy glow,
And forms that all have passed away,
And let them what we see them now.
And let it thus—human love
No very light and airy thing—
And most people's brightest vision move
Forever on this "fading" wing.

Must all the eyes that still are bright,
And all the lips that still are true,
And all the forms that still are young,
And all the hearts that still are true,
Then what are all our treasures worth,
If we have none more than these—
Here long must fade away from us?

A droll fellow was asked by an lady to read the newspaper, and taking
it up began as follows:
Last night yesterday morning about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, before breakfast, a hungry boy about forty years of age, bought a flip custard for a penny,
and threw it through a brick wall nine feet thick, and jumping over it, broke his right ankle above the left knee, fell into a dry mill pond and was drowned.
About forty years after that, on the same day, an old cat had nine turkey gobblers; a high wind blew Yankee doodly on a frying pan, and knocked down the old Dutch churn down and killed a sow and two dead pigs at Boston, where a deaf and dumb man was talking French to his aunt Peter.

THE TWO APPRENTICES.

Two boys were apprentices in a carpenter shop. One determined to make himself a thorough carpenter; the other
"didn't care." One read and studied, and got books that would help him to understand the principles of his trade.
He spent his evenings at home, reading.
The other liked fun best. He often went with other boys to have a "good game." "Come," he often said to his shopmate, "leave your old book; come with us. What's the use of all this reading?"

"If I waste these golden moments," answered the boy, "I shall lose what I shall never make up."

While the boys were still apprentices,
an offer of $2,000 appeared in the newspapers for the best plan for a State House, to be built in one of the Western States. The studious boy saw the advertisement, and determined to try for it. After a careful study, he drew out his plans, and sent them to the committee. We suppose he did not really expect to gain the prize; but still he thought "there is nothing like trying."

In about a week after, a gentleman arrived at the carpenter's shop, and inquired if an architect by the name of Washington Wilberforce lived there.

"No," said the carpenter, "no architect, but I've got an apprentice by that name."

"Let's see him," said the gentleman.
The young man was summoned, and informed that his plan had been accepted, and that the two thousand dollars were his. The gentleman then said the boy must put up the building and his employer was proud of his success,
that he will give him his time and let him go.

The studious young carpenter became one of the first architects in the country. He made a fortune, and stands
high in the estimation of everybody;
while his fellow-apprentice can hardly earn food for himself and family by his daily labor.

The Nashville Tragedy.

Nashville Correspondence of the Clin. Gazette.
This bloody drama is the culmination of many years of wrong doing, and I will give you the story as I have learned it from many persons, and it has been told me by some of the most respectable citizens of Nashville.

Hugh McGavock, deceased, was one of our most successful citizens. When quite far along in years, he married a young and beautiful wife who became the mother of one son, the young man who perpetrated the homicide to-day.
The old man sleeps in an honored grave.

Toward the close of Hugh McGavock's life, his young wife, became very much attached to her music teacher—an accomplished and handsome Frenchman named Descevelas, to whom, subsequent to her first husband's death, she was married. This marriage did not prove to be a very happy one, and a separation occurred prior to the death or departure of Descevelas. Madame Desce-velas resides in a splendid mansion in the northern part of the city. She is rich, highly accomplished, and although past forty, is one of the most beautiful and engaging women that has moved in Nashville society during the past fifty years. Had she been as prudent as she is fascinating, the bloody corpse of "Charley Bent" would not be lying yonder on Union street, nor would his devoted wife and two sweet babies be weeping
in utter desolation.

Charles Bent, a good looking, jolly,
well educated young man, came to this city eight or ten years since, and was employed as a bank clerk. His accomplishments were varied. He had more than ordinary literary culture, and devoted much attention to music. At our great musical festivals he has always taken an important part, and has acquired himself with high credit. As agent of the associated press, he occupied a respectable and responsible position.

But for many months past, the public has felt scandalized by the intimacy which has existed between Charles Bent and Madame Descevelas, and that intimacy culminated in open disgrace, at the National and Louisville hotels a few days since. The disgraceful story need not be repeated.

F. H. McGavock, the only son of Madame Descevelas, is a young man of about 22 years. A few months since he returned from college in the north,
and for some time remained in ignorance
of his mother's imprudent conduct.
But when the Louisville newspapers exposed her shame he was mortified and resolved on the death of Bent. It is said that he gave him warning that he must leave the city, or he would kill him. Of the truth of this I cannot vouch. He has committed a great crime, has done nothing to wipe out the disgrace that has fallen upon one who was not dear to him, and yet the public sympathy is with him. No one who has not been himself crushed by such a lightning bolt as has struck down the hopes of young McGavock can truly sympathize with him in his present misery.

THE MYSTERY OF ST. PETER—Chambers' Journal has the following on the above subject:
Twelve hundred millions of dreams
make a net work of wild fancies that float about the planet. To go, if it were possible, through this world of sleep,
would be a sadder task than that of exploring the whole waking world. For in sleep every living being is a poet,
from the baby that coos in its dreams
to the hoarsest of good-fellows in the community who, with staff and cane, or hobble, about paradise at the heels of seraphs. She pines and wearies are the two phenomena of our existence. What is done and thought in the every day working world, is a mere trifling comparison of life's dream world, to the dream world of the night. The dream world is fully as real to another—
There are references in the professions of the most frank thing, which cannot and should never will, be spoken—thoughts which transcend the limits of language—hopes which the power of fancy could satisfy—fears which even laughter himself would fail to exaggerate.
If this portion of our life, which is at least subjected to our own observation,
cannot be fully and faithfully described,
still less can the other portion, which defies even our own scrutiny, convey us into more spectators of ourselves; set free our actions from the control of our own will, and transform us into so many passive spokes in the great wheel of existence. Whatever may be the laws
by which it is regulated, sleep presents
the counterpart of the waking world—
distorted, mutilated, thrown into irregular confusion by the force of the imagination.

In his Lancaster speech, Mr.
Thaddeus Stevens said that "whoever is governed by the laws has a right to make them." We suppose, Thaddeus, you meant to except the Southern white people—didn't you?

RENOVAL.

DR. J. Y. NIBBET has removed his office to the large room, east side of the Public Square, where he will continue the practice of his profession, and where he will be always found, unless professionally absent.

CINCINNATI COURT.—The Fall Term of this Court has been in session here for the past two weeks. A number of cases have been disposed of. The Grand Jury found about 60 true bills. Aaron the murderer of the Williams family was tried last Wednesday, convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hung on Friday the 14th day of December next. He was able defend-d by two Attorneys, but failed in vain. Justice will be meted out to him, —Cherokee Adv. Messenger.

POETRY

We copy the following from the outside leaf of the Minutes of the Ten Islands Association; which will be found to contain some useful suggestions to Ministers.

SUGGESTIONS OF THE CLERK TO THE MINISTRY OF TEN ISLANDS ASSOCIATION.

Brethren by this my mind you'll know,
Learn to pronounce your sentences slow;
Give every word of a discourse,
Its proper time, and life, and force;
And urge what you think fit to say,
In a sedate and earnest way;
Grave and deliberate, as it's fit,
To comment upon holy writ.

Many a sermon gives distaste,
By being spoken in too much haste;
Which had it been pronounced with leisure,
Would have been listened to with pleasure.

And thus the preacher often gains,
His labor only for his pains;
As (if you doubt it) may appear
From every Sunday in the year.

For how indeed can one expect
The best discourse should take effect,
Unless the maker thinks it worth
Some needful care to set it forth?
What! does he think the pains he took
To write it fairly in a book,
Will do the business? not a bit—
It must be spoke as well as writ.

For what's a sermon, good or bad,
If a man speaks it like a lad?
To hear some people when they preach,
Have they run o'er all parts of speech,
And neither raise a word nor sink;
Our learned teachers one would think,
Had taken school boys from the rod,
To make Ambassadors for God.

So perfect is the Christian scheme,
He who from thence would take his theme,
And time to make it understood,
His sermon cannot but be good.
If he will needs be preaching stuff,
No time indeed is short enough;
I'll let him read it like a letter,
The sooner it is done the better:
But for a man who has a head,
Of whom it may in truth be said,
That on occasion he can raise,
A just remark or proper phrase;
For such a one to run along,
Tumbling his accents o'er his tongue,
Shows only that a man at once,
Can be a scholar and a dunce.

In point of sermons, 'tis confessed,
Our southern clergy make the best;
But this appears we must confess,
Not from the pulpit, but the press.
They manage with disjoined skill,
The matter well, the manner ill;
And what seems paradox at first,
They make the best, a preach the worst.

Would men but speak as well as write,
Both faculties would then unite,
The outward action being taught,
To show the inward strength of thought.
Now to do this, our short hand school,
Lays down this plain and general rule,
Take time enough, all other graces
Will soon fill up their proper places.

Horrific Murder.—In Marshall county, near Guntersville, on the 4th, a horrible murder was committed by Jacob Keener upon—White. Keener had employed White to move his family from Georgia; that night they camped, and while White was asleep Keener took an axe, split his head open, cut his throat and then severed his body in a ravine. Keener afterwards confessed the deed, was arrested, brought over to Huntsville by Sheriff Black and put in jail. His object apparently, was to steal White's team and escape paying for moving his family.

Huntsville, Ala.
Hunt.—The sentence of death was executed upon the negro Bill, the murdered Mrs. Rollins, at Irwinton, Friday last, in the presence of an immense throng of spectators. We learn that he made full confession of the horrid crime, together with a life devoted to murder and robbery. The Atlanta ticket agent fell at his hands, and numbers were sent unprepared to their last account by this demon in human form. His confession has been written out, and will be given to the public.—Marion Telegraph.

The Georgia Senate has passed a bill forbidding the distillation of cereals.

Moral Courage in Every Day Life.

Have the courage to discharge a debt while you have the money in your pocket.

Have the courage to do without that which you do not need, however much your eyes may covet it.

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary to do so, and bide your tongue when it is prudent to do so.

Have the courage to speak to a friend in a "seedy" coat even though you are in company with a rich one, and richly attired.

Have the courage to make a will and a just one.

Have the courage to tell a man why you will not lend him your money.

Have the courage to "out" the most agreeable acquaintance you have, when you are convinced that he lacks principle.

Have the courage to show your respect for honesty, in what ever guise it appears, and your contempt for dishonest duplicity, by whomsoever exhibited.

Have the courage to wear your old clothes until you can pay for new ones.

Have the courage to obey your Maker, at the risk of being ridiculed by man.

Have the courage to prefer comfort and propriety to fashion, in all things.

Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance, rather than to seek credit for knowledge under false pretences.

Have the courage to provide entertainment for your friends, within your means—not beyond.

Artemus Ward boasts that his family is descended from the Puritans, who nobly fled from the land of despotism to a land of freedom, where they could not only enjoy their own religion, but prevent everybody else whom enjoying it.

Hon. Lewis E. Parsons is filling a series of appointments made for him by the Hoffman Executive Committee of New York, and is vigorously stamping the State in behalf of the Conservative candidates.

A bill passed the Mississippi House of Representatives to punish horse stealing with "hanging by the neck."

To Remove Freckles.—Freckles are removed in a surprising short time by a perfectly new process, which probably no one besides the writer is acquainted with. This process I have first tried on my own person, and the good effect obtained warrants its general introduction into the toilet rooms and boudoirs of the world. Here it is: Take powdered niter (salt peter) any small quantity, and apply it to the parts affected with the finger moistened and dipped in the powder. This is the whole proceedings, when properly done and judiciously repeated, it will remove all freckles from the face.—N. Y. People.

Methodism.—The votes which have been thus far taken in the several annual conferences of the Southern Methodists, indicate the ratification by a large majority of the proposed change of the name of the church to Episcopal Methodist church, and the proposed introduction of lay representation into the general conference.

The following results are reported:

Holston Conference.—For change of name, 51; against it, 2. For lay representation, 47; against it, 5.

Louisville Conference.—For change of name, 35; against it, 31. For lay representation, 57; against it, 11.

Arkansas Conference.—For change of name, 25; against it, 7. For lay representation, 27; against it, 4.

The Tennessee Conference recently in session at Huntsville voted against the change of name and lay representation. The vote on change of name was 4 for and 46 against. For lay representation 56 against it. A three-fourths vote being necessary to carry them.

Miss FANNIE SEWARD.—Fanny Seward has sustained another bereavement, in addition to the personal sorrows which have fallen upon her so thickly of late, in the death of her daughter and young nephew, Fannie and Miss Seward's death of his wife, says the Times.

Mr. Seward's affections have clung most closely and fondly to his daughter, whose character, resembling her mother's, was well calculated to win love and tender regard from all who knew her. She was eminently quiet and unobtrusive in her manner, shrinking always from public notice, seeking happiness in the pursuits, duties and enjoyments of domestic life and ministering with constant and selfless activity to the wants and welfare of those around her. Yet she had a strength of character, far beyond what any casual observer would suspect, and was equal to any emergency no matter how trying and terrible it might be. The fearless courage with which she threw herself between her father's breast and the uplifted knife of the assassin Payne, and the tenacity with which she clung to his arm, and sought to divert his deadly aim, attest this trait in her character. Payne afterward said that if he could have made up his mind to strike her out of his way, he could have accomplished his purpose on the Secretary, but that her steps between his weapon and her father, deterred him; he had not the heart to take her life also. Mr. Seward's attachment to her was always most warm and devoted. While traveling in Europe, he never retired at night without writing to her full descriptions of all he had seen and heard during the day; she was always in his thoughts when absent, and always closely watched of his comfort and happiness when at home. That home, already shadowed with gloom, will be darker than ever, now that she who gave it so much of its light has gone forever.

It is understood that the forthcoming message of the President of the United States to Congress will be all in favor of peace at home and abroad, and hence all opposed to war or warlike drifts. So says a Washington correspondent of the New York Herald.

The Richmond Whig says: "General Butler little dreamed when he was digging Dutch Gap that he was conferring a benefit on the commerce of Richmond. The canal—that is, Dutch Gap, is now much navigated by sail vessels and steam tugs."

which they need not pay until it is known what is drawn and its value.
THE AMERICAN JEWELLERS' ASSOCIATION calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular jewelry Association in the United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner, our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German War and recent disastrous financial crisis in England, has caused the failure of a large number of Jewelry Houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacture. We have lately purchased very largely of these bankrupt Goods at such extremely low prices, that we can afford to send away finer Goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than one Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend upon having prompt returns, and the article drawn will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

The following parties have recently drawn valuable prizes from the American Jewellers' Association, and have kindly allowed the use of their names:
Charles J. Hunter, Esq., Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., Piano, value $500; Miss Anna G. Yates, 52 St. Mark's Place, N. Y., Sewing Machine, value $75; Briggs, Gen. L. L. Hanson, U. S. Vols., Nashville, Tenn., Silver Tea Set, value $150; Miss Emma Hunter, 63 Front St., Harrisburg, Pa., Sewing Machine, value $50; Lieut. Col. Walter C. Cunningham, Quartermaster, Louisville, Kentucky, Gold Watch, value $150; Wm. S. Haines, 247 King St., Charleston, S. C., Silver Watch, value $50; Alexander Johnson, Esq., Editor Washington Post, Washington, D. C., Ladies' Bracelet, value $50; Samuel Lee, Esq., President Colorado and Red Bank Mining Companies, San Francisco, Cal., Melodeon, value $200; College St. Louis, Esq., Principal Elkhardt College Institute, Elkhardt, N. J., Diamond Pin, value $200; R. M. Longstreet, Montgomery, Ala., Music Box, value $75; Rev. Isaac Van Duzer, Albany, N. Y., Gold Lined Dining Set, value $300; Miss Clara Lutzner, Dayton, Ohio, Piano-forte, value $100; and Diamond Pin, value $175.

Many names could be placed on the list, but we publish no names without permission. Our patrons are desired to send United States Currency when it is convenient.

In Chancery.
Nancy Donahoe, et al. vs. Cross Hill, Woodford E. Hanna, as Admr. of the Estate of Terry Riddle, dec.

At Rules before the Register 36th District Northern Chancery Division, Calhoun Co. Ala., on the 29th Oct. 1866.

THIS day came the complainants by their solicitors, Ellis & Caldwell, and moved the undersigned Register and Master in Chancery for the 36th District, Northern Chancery Division of the State of Alabama, for an order of publication, against the defendants, Satira Jane Riddle, Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle, upon the ground that they live beyond the limits of the State; and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Register from an affidavit on file, that the said Satira Jane Riddle is of full age and resides in Hamilton county, State of Tennessee, and that the said Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle are both minors under fourteen years of age, and reside with their mother, the said Satira Jane, in Hamilton county, State of Tennessee;—It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, a weekly newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, Calhoun county, Alabama, once a week for four consecutive weeks, notifying and requiring the said non-resident defendants, Satira Jane Riddle, Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle, to send personally appear before the Register of the court at his office in the town of Jacksonville, Alabama, within fifty days from the date of this order, and plead, answer or demur to complainant's cross bill of complaint, exhibited against them and others in said Chancery court, or the same will be taken as confessed and said cause set for hearing ex parte as to them. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be posted upon the court house door of Calhoun county, Ala. within twenty days from this date.
Granted 29th Oct. 1866.

In Chancery.
Nancy Donahoe, et al. vs. Cross Hill, Woodford E. Hanna, as Admr. of the Estate of Terry Riddle, dec.

At Rules before the Register 36th District Northern Chancery Division, Calhoun Co. Ala., on the 29th Oct. 1866.

THIS day came the complainants by their solicitors, Ellis & Caldwell, and moved the undersigned Register and Master in Chancery for the 36th District, Northern Chancery Division of the State of Alabama, for an order of publication, against the defendants, Satira Jane Riddle, Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle, upon the ground that they live beyond the limits of the State; and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Register from an affidavit on file, that the said Satira Jane Riddle is of full age and resides in Hamilton county, State of Tennessee, and that the said Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle are both minors under fourteen years of age, and reside with their mother, the said Satira Jane, in Hamilton county, State of Tennessee;—It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, a weekly newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, Calhoun county, Alabama, once a week for four consecutive weeks, notifying and requiring the said non-resident defendants, Satira Jane Riddle, Mary Riddle and Ida Riddle, to send personally appear before the Register of the court at his office in the town of Jacksonville, Alabama, within fifty days from the date of this order, and plead, answer or demur to complainant's cross bill of complaint, exhibited against them and others in said Chancery court, or the same will be taken as confessed and said cause set for hearing ex parte as to them. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be posted upon the court house door of Calhoun county, Ala. within twenty days from this date.
Granted 29th Oct. 1866.

The Governor's Message.

ON THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

I have received from the State Department at Washington, a duly attested copy of a resolution of Congress proposing a Fourteenth Article to the Constitution of the United States. A verified copy of the resolution is transferred herewith.

This proposed article contains five sections. The first, after describing who are citizens of the United States, closes in the following words:

"No States shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law."

The Constitution of the United States as it now stands, provides that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law. A provision similar to this is contained in the Constitution of Alabama and, I presume, of every State in the Union; and thus the sacred rights of persons and property are protected by all the safeguards which human constitutions and laws can furnish. It is important, therefore, to examine closely and carefully into the proposition to change this great feature of our institutions.

The courts of the United States have a clearly defined sphere of jurisdiction. The jurisdictional limits of the State courts are also distinctly marked. In no thing did those great and good men who founded our Government, display more wisdom and foresight, than in the establishment of a properly balanced system of Federal and State judiciary. For more than three-quarters of a century this system has worked with admirable harmony. During that long period, it has afforded such ready, full and efficient opportunities for enforcing all the rights, and redressing all the grievances of the citizen, that up to his time not even the slightest defect has been alleged against it. It has passed unscathed through the fiercest contentions of political parties. The country has, at different times, been agitated by almost every conceivable question, except a reform of the judiciary. That has appeared with such universal satisfaction that it is the wildest political dreamer, or most impracticable sentimentalist, has ever ventured to assail it.

After all these conclusive evidences of the perfection and triumphant success of our judiciary system, it is certainly the part of wisdom to use and deliberate before we give our sanction to a proposition which would effect a radical change in it. A careful examination would show that the words, "nor shall any State deprive any person," which are contained in the first section, are of vast, if not dangerous import.

It would enlarge the judicial powers of the General Government to such gigantic dimensions as would not only overshadow and weaken the authority and influence of the State courts, but might possibly reduce them to a complete nullity. It would give to the United States courts complete and unlimited jurisdiction over every conceivable case, however important, or however trivial, which could arise under State laws. Every individual dissatisfied with the decision of a State court, might apply to a Federal tribunal for redress. It matters not what might be the character of his case. It might be civil or criminal. It might be a simple action of debt, or a suit in trover; it might be an indictment for assault and battery, and for robbery, for burglary, for arson, or for murder. It would be the same. Upon a simple complaint that his rights, either of person or property had been infringed it would be the bounden duty of the tribunal to which he made his application to hear and determine his case. The granting of such an immense power as this over the State tribunals would, at the very best, subordinate them to a co-dictation of unimportant and insignificant, and might prove utterly destructive of the full security for the enjoyment of all the legal rights of property, and the effective guarantees against arbitrary oppression which the people have found in our present judicial system ever since the organization of the Government.

The second section of the proposed amendment would make a radical change in the representative system of the General Government. Under the Constitution as it now stands representatives in Congress are apportioned among the several States, according to their number of inhabitants. By the proposed second section, if in any State the right to vote is denied any class of its inhabitants, the representatives for such State are to be reduced in the proportion which the excluded class shall bear to the whole of the State. The practical effect of this section upon the Southern States would be a loss of nearly half of the representatives to which they are now entitled, if they should not extend the elective franchise to the negroes. But there would be very little, if any, diminution in the Northern States, as they contain but a small negro population.

In most of the States now represented in Congress, there is a large number of unnaturalized foreigners. By the laws of nearly all of those States the elective franchise is withheld from foreigners until, by a proper period of residence, their naturalization is perfect. Still, they have the right of suffrage in proportion to the number of the State; and hence, they would be regularly counted in the representative apportionment. By this means the numerical strength now held by those States would be retained. Therefore, if this amendment should be incorporated into the constitution, the representative apportionment in some of the States would be based upon the whole number of the inhabitants, while in others it would be governed by actual voters. This would be an unfair and an unjust discrimination against the Southern States.

The third section of this proposed Fourteenth Article is still more objectionable. It establishes a test of eligibility for office, both Federal and State, which is not only unnecessary and unjustly oppressive, but which might possibly lead to the most ruinous consequences. Experience has demonstrated that the Government does not require such a rigid and discriminating test. The officials chosen since the war to conduct operations of the non-represented States have had numerous and embarrassing difficulties to contend with. But amidst all their discouraging embarrassments, they have firmly and faithfully discharged their public duties in strict harmony with the Constitution and laws of the United States. They, as well as the people for whom they act, fully recognize their indissoluble identity with the Union, and are earnestly and honestly laboring to maintain it in its constitutional integrity. All this shows that the people may be very safely allowed the untrammelled privilege of choosing their own agents from among those who are eligible to positions of public trust under the Constitution as it now stands. The people of the States which are now denied representation in Congress, would not murmur at any standard of patriotism or test of loyalty to the General Government which might be applied to their professions and conduct since the close of the war. If punishments are to be inflicted for perverting conduct, surely the pains and penalties prescribed by the laws now standing upon the National Statute Book, are amply sufficient for the purpose. They are certainly rigorous enough to accomplish all legitimate purposes of any government controlled by true statesmanship.

If the disabilities imposed by this third section be designed as a punishment for acts heretofore committed, the amendment would operate practically as an ex post facto law, which is contrary to the whole spirit of modern civilization. The creation of a penalty to be imposed as a punishment for an act, after that particular act has been committed, is a thing unknown in the history of enlightened liberty. Such a mode of dealing with citizens charged with offenses against government, belongs only to despotic tyrants. I may accomplish revengeful purposes, but it is not the proper mode of administering justice.

The creation of a penalty to be imposed as a punishment for an act, after that particular act has been committed, is a thing unknown in the history of enlightened liberty. Such a mode of dealing with citizens charged with offenses against government, belongs only to despotic tyrants. I may accomplish revengeful purposes, but it is not the proper mode of administering justice.

The adoption of this amendment would vacate nearly all the offices in most of the unrepresented States. It would summarily and ruthlessly sweep away Governors, Judges, Legislatures, Sheriffs, Justices of the Peace, and Constables and thus the State Governments would be completely broken up. Indeed, they would be reduced to utter and hopeless anarchy, as the destroyed States would leave behind them no authoritative provision for the re-establishment or governmental order.

The great mass of the people in the non-represented States are now practically excluded from all Federal offices by a stringent test each which was placed upon the statute book while the war was raging. We have high official authority for saying that the disabilities imposed by that test are seriously detrimental to the interest of the Government in some of its important branches. Common sense to this effect were addressed to Congress at a recent session by the Secretary of the Treasury, and Postmaster General, and that body was appealed to for relief. There is no difficulty in finding men who would make efficient revenue collectors and postmasters. But the inexorable test oath is so cruel and sweeping, that the Government is deprived of their services. It was clearly in the power of Congress to grant the relief asked for by a majority vote, but I am not aware that it was done in a single instance. This proposed third section would not only extend the disabilities of the test oath, but it would abridge the relieving power of Congress, by requiring a vote of two thirds instead of a majority.

For reasons, such as these, I am decidedly of the opinion that the amendment should not be ratified. The first section embodies a principle which I regard as dangerous to the liberties of the people of the whole country. That principle as applicable to New York and Massachusetts as Alabama. The second section proposes a change in a feature of our government which has never been complained of before. The question of representation has never been a source of trouble or inconvenience. It contributed in no way to the recent troubles of the country, and a change in it cannot be legitimately claimed as forming any part of the results of the war. The third section would bring no possible good to the represented States, while it would reduce those that are unrepresented to utter anarchy and ruin.

We are sincerely desirous for a complete restoration of the Union. We want conciliation, harmony and national tranquility. We feel that we have given every evidence which human action can furnish, of an honest purpose to conform in good faith to the conditions of things surrounding us. Alabama is to-day as true to the Constitution and laws of the general government as any State in the Union. Under the internal revenue law, and the tax on cotton, the people of this State are now paying revenue to the Federal Government at the rate of nearly one million of dollars a year. In the enactment of these laws we had no voice. This amendment was proposed when nearly one-third of the States were unrepresented, and all of its harsh features are aimed directly at the States thus excluded. The ratification of such an amendment proposed under such circumstances, cannot, in any possible view, accomplish any good to the country, and might bring upon it irretrievable disaster.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Of Adjutant J. Williams, who belonged to Co. D, 24th Alabama Infantry Regiment, and was wounded near Chattanooga, September, 1864. When last heard from he was doing well in prison at Chattanooga. Any information sent to Jas. M. Williams, Centerville, Habersham county, Ala., will be thankfully received.

INFLUENCE OF WATER ON THE PRODUCTION OF MILK.—The recent experiments of M. Pannisson and others show that the abundant secretion of milk is directly dependent upon the amount of drinking water. In former experiments, which tended to prove the opposite conclusion, the cows were not sufficiently allowed to drink the quantity of water retained in the food given to the cows upon which the experiments were conducted.

PATTERSON STOCK.—Stock, says the Rural World, will fatten better in the dark than in the light—better in the fall (on account of the longer nights) than in the summer. With less food more weight can be secured in the dark than in the light. Experiments have sufficiently demonstrated this. The pigpen should be in the dark. We have often seen it made so with the finest effect in favor of the fattening of stock. It is known that light toughens the tissue. For a work horse, the sun is excellent; for the working man the same; but not for the accumulation of fat. Yet how few people take advantage of these things.

THE PROGRAMME OF GERRIT SMITH.

Gerrit Smith, the distinguished New York Radical, is not for blood and confiscation like his colleagues generally, but has a milder policy. He says: "Happy should I be to see our country brought to a just and permanent peace on the following terms:

"1. No more punishment—there has been enough.

"2. No confiscation.

"3. No disfranchisement of Southern offenders.

"4. The National debt paid and the secession debt blotted out.

"5. Impartial suffrage. I believe in universal suffrage, but in this instance I would insist only upon impartial suffrage—impartial among all men, white, black, and red.

"6. In deep sorrow for the suffering and poverty of the South, let the Nation exempt her for some five or ten years from the imposition of direct internal taxes. In these taxes I do not include duties on foreign goods.

"7. Mutual forgiveness, and, as far as possible, forgetfulness of the wrongs which each has done the other."

MISSOURI ELECTION.—Eight counties of the State gave an official reported Radical majority of 14,500. The counties to hear from will probably increase to between 20,000 and 25,000

HENRY CLAY'S PREDICTION.—In his address to Calvin, on September 2, 1843, Clay says: "The present question (slavery question) in the Free States destroy all harmony, and finally to disunion. The consequences of this are—perpetual war—the extension of the African race—ultimate slavery despotism."

POETRY.

OLDEN SONGS.

Back from the misty realms of Time,
Back from the years ago,
Faintly we catch the tinkling rhyme,
And hear the melody and chime,
Of olden songs, of strains so true,
Like carol of birds at dawn.

And ever we hear them, soft and low,
Harping their music sweet,
Songs that we loved in the long ago,
Rippling the liquid ebb and flow,
Drifting the cadence to and fro,
Like the fall of fairy feet.

Some faces our heart will ever hold,
Some smiles we may remember yet,
There were flowing locks like the sunsets gold,
There were parted lips of Cupid's mould,
And the songs they sang can never grow old,
For our hearts can ne'er forget.

The tunes that the voice of girlhood sung,
The chords that we loved full well
When hopes were buoyant, hearts were young,
When fairy bells in the flower-cups rung,
And ever fell from a maiden's tongue
The words of witching spell.

Ah, welladay! 'tis a story past,
Which I may not tell again,
'Twas a happiness too sweet to last;
The heavy clouds on her grave are cast,
And her voice is stilled, and above her fast
Falls the Summer rain!

A ROUND OF DAYS.

I sang to my heart in the sunshine of May,
And the garulous bird on the acorn spray
Sung to his mate in the nest;
Sweetheart, the daffodil blooms on the lea,
The blossoms are thick upon bramble and tree;
And all thro' the long, merry year we will be
"Treu und Fest, Treu und Fest!"

I sang to my heart in the burning July,
And the golden-haired sun in a sapphire sky
Uplifted his fiery crest;
And the thousand-tongued land was melodious
With song—
'Oh, the world shall be merry, the days shall be long,
And love in the sunshine is valiant and strong;
Treu und Fest, Treu und Fest!"

I sang to my heart in the wane of the year,
And the glebe of the sunshine hung lurid and drear
Far down in the sorrowful West;
The west was forsaken, the sparrow had fled,
The music was hushed and the blossoms were dead;
But a voice through the silence and solitude said
"Treu und Fest, treu und Fest!"

And still sings that voice in the wind and the snow—
'There is light after darkness, and joy after woe,
And the love that is tried is the best;
I care not though tempest be black in the sky,
Though the birds may be fickle, and blossoms
may die,
What matter? my darling soul find me for aye
Treu und Fest, Treu und Fest!"

The Philadelphia Age compares

Great Heavens! what can the uncom-

The New York Tribune again vigorously denounces the retention of Jellison Davis in prison. If he is tried, says the Tribune, it is morally certain he will not be convicted; if convicted, he will not be punished. It thinks magnanimity to Mr. Davis will so mollify
the South as to facilitate reconstruction
upon an impartial suffrage basis.

THE SCUPPERNON.—We assert this grape to be worth more to us of the South, than all others put together.
The fruit is of large size, sweet, of delicious flavor, subject to no disease, nor liable to the depredations of insects or birds; it makes a finer and more delicately flavored sparkling wine than any other in the world, but requires very strong bottles to hold it. Some object to it because the berries do not all ripen

at once. All the reply we have to make is, cultivate the vine well and when they are eight or nine years old, you will have as many as you want for the space of a month at all times. We do not hesitate to predict, that sparkling wine
will yet be made from this grape, commanding a higher price than any other in the world. And as the vine can be grown successfully in the Southern States, we urge it upon the attention of amateurs, and for the vineyard culture
as far more remunerating than the California, or any other variety, as it requires but very little attention to cultivate it, is enormously productive, and probably longer-lived than any other variety.

How to Determine Where Water Is.

At a recent meeting of the American Institute Farmer's Club, a member related his experience in this matter as follows:

"An Irishman in his employment, in order to ascertain where he ought to dig
to obtain water soonest, got a stone
and buried it over night in the ground, next to the hardpan. Next morning he found it quite moist, but not sufficiently to suit his fancy. Next night he tried it in another spot, and it was found very wet on the following. 'There,' said Patrick 'you will find water not many feet deep, and plenty of it.'—Sure enough, in a few days' digging, Patrick confirmed his prediction, notwithstanding the jeers of the workmen—finding a vein which filled the well to overflowing, and, rendering it exceedingly difficult to bail out the water so as to stone it. The philosophy of the operation seems to be that as great evaporation takes place from the surface of the earth
during the night, the water rises up from the depths below to supply the loss, and accumulates in the vicinity of the stone,
often makes quite a puddle.

James Hepper, a young miner
from Idaho, stopped in Chicago the other day, while on his way home in Michigan, with a belt full of gold. While there he fell in with a number of festive young folks of both sexes, to whom he exhibited his dust. They declared themselves profoundly interested in everything relating to Idaho, and invited him to try a drop of Chicago whisky. He tried it, and as if he hadn't succeeded, they induced him to try, try again. They then convinced him that he ought at once to convert his gold in to greenbacks, and one of them told him he had a friend who would give him a splendid price for it. James turned over the gold and is still waiting for the fellow to come back with the greenbacks.

THE AMERICAN JEWELERS' AS-SOCIATION calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in the United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner.
Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German War and recent disastrous financial crisis in England, has caused the failure of a large number of Jewelry Houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these Bankrupt Goods at such extremely low prices,
that we can afford to send away finer goods,
and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country.
Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend upon having prompt returns,
and the article drawn will be immediately
sent to any address by return mail or express.
The following parties have recently drawn valuable prizes from the American Jewelers' Association, and have kindly allowed the use of their names:

Charles J. Hunter, Esq., Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., Piano, value
$300; Miss Anna G. Yates, 52 St. Mark's
